That Lusitania Note

Fitchburg—President Wilson denied the truth of the statement made by Senator Lodge respecting that now famous postscript to the Lusitania note, and declares that he never even so much as considered such a postscript. Lodge quotes more from the former official. Bryan points out that his resignation could not have been induced by the second Lusitania note, as is charged, for the reason that he had left office before that note was written.

Both Sides Are Confident

Honolulu—Private advices from the mainland state that the president and House will run Republican, the Senate being in doubt. On the other hand, the Democrats are confident that their candidates will be elected.

Hughes In Ohio

Columbus—In his speech here Mr. Hughes said that energized Europe after the war would capture American business unless it had a protective tariff such as is proposed by the Republicans.

Villa Reports Conflicting

El Paso—Conflicting reports are in circulation on the activities of Villa. The only reports agreeing are that the bandit leader at the head of a large force is raiding in the vicinity of Parral.

German Lines Firm

Berlin—General von Hindenberg says that Germany's lines on the west are as firm as a rock.

Labor Vote Independent

Pittsburg—The secretary of the Labor Federation states that the labor vote is not tied up to any party and will back such candidates as promise support to labor.

Fairbanks Mother Dead

Indianapolis—Mrs. Mary Fairbanks, mother of Chas. Warren Fairbanks, died yesterday at the age of 87. She lived a long and useful life.

Honolulu Stock Market

Honolulu—The stock market is quiet and it is believed it will continue so until after election. Some activity in Mineral Products.

Monday Afternoon

Berlin—The French show great and most remarkable tenacity but are exterminating their own lives by their methods. In the end none of them will be left. The British have sprung another offensive. They will rob France of the remainder of her army and of her national strength.

The British have gained some ground between Lesbombs and Morval, South of the Somme. French positions stormed from Maisonville Farm to Biaches. Town taken and 412 prisoners captured. Bolke collided with another aeroplane and fell behind the German line. He died from the fall. He downed his fortieth hostile aeroplane last week.

Horse Transport Torpedoed

London—U. S. Consul Frost has reported from Queenstown to the Embassy here that the British horse transport Marina was torpedoed without warning and that he is procuring affidavits from the survivors. Frost reported that the Rowanmore, recently torpedoed had aboard seven Americans and several made affidavits that the life boats, while being lowered, were shelled. There were no deaths on that occasion.

The crew of the Marina numbered 104 and only 34 landed at Crookhaven safely.

Honolulu News Notes

Honolulu—The American Surety Co., bondsmen for Geo. M. Marshall, contractor on the Hilo Breakwater job, will pay the laborers the sum of $8,000 coming to them. The bond company offered to complete the work, but Marshall refused on October 18, the attorneys assert.

The Republicans begin the final week of the campaign and the straight ticket will be urged from now to next Monday night.

The sale of the Mahuka site to Castle & Cooke for $475,000 has been confirmed by the treasury department.

Honolulu—The big suit of Bishop & Co. against the Waialua Agricultural Co. has been dropped.

Supervisors Larsen and Logan say that the city is in urgent need of more money and advocate bonding.

Fred Waldren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, states that merchants are tired of having politics introduced into the work of the Promotion Committee and that the Chamber may take the partial control of it from the Territory.

Lodge Makes Grave Charge

Somerville—Senator Lodge declares that President Wilson stultified his own note to Germany on the Lusitania affair. The Massachusetts senator says that a footnote was added to the letter of protest telling the German government not to take the statements made therein too seriously. He says that Secretary Bryan probably resigned from the administration because of the trouble caused by his footnote. Lodge says he has the authority for making this statement.
